

Wilde Revenge

Coming 2020

Declan Wilde knew it was wrong to mark a female and take her away from what might have been her true mate, but he told himself that one day he'd take his revenge.

The one male wolf in the world he hated more than anything was the arrogant District Attorney, Thad Bennett who killed his father four years ago. And Declan vowed to make him pay.

And today is that day.

When Declan got wind of a female who had a knack for painting black wolves, his interest peaked. It meant only one thing; she was a true mate of a black alpha wolf. He and Bennett were both black wolves. While Declan had no desire to be strapped down to a mate, Bennett did. He needed a polished mate to show off and accompany him on his way up to becoming senator, then perhaps president one day.

Aiya Davenport was that woman. A graduate from MIT, she was beautiful, sophisticated, intelligent and way, way out of his league.

Declan saw this as a chance for Bennett to pay his debt. The woman in question was the gorgeous daughter of the current senator, Senator Davenport, who was on his death bed. And currently it was the Senator that prevented Bennett from taking what he wanted.

So, Declan did what any bastard with a grudge would do; grab and mark a woman that Bennett viewed as his future mate in order to make him suffer.

It seemed like a good plan at the time.

Telling Aiya she was meant to be his mate was a lie that left a bitter taste in his mouth. Little by little, the feisty socialite brought him to his knees. She challenged him, every step of the way, forcing him to see her in a different light. Forcing him to want her as his true mate, not just his sexual play-thing.

Now Declan is head over heels for the woman he stole from another wolf. But the truth always comes out and she will hate him for his deceit, that he is certain. And he could lose a woman he never knew he wanted or needed.

What started out as a power play against a rival alpha wolf, has turned into a life Declan Wilde can't and won't walk away from.

Even if it means getting on his knees and begging for forgiveness.
